Rectory Road is off the old A120 Harwich Road which runs parallel to the new A120. From the Colchester direction you will pass the slip road to Clacton-on-Sea (A133), after around ½ mile the road is reduced to a single carriageway, take the next turning right to Gt. Bromley. Once across the carriageway take the turning left, there should be a sign on the verge to guide you. After ½ mile take a right at the small triangle junction (another sign), less than ¼ mile and the field entrance is signed to your right.

From the Harwich direction you will come to a roundabout with a large white water tower on the right, stay on the A120 towards Colchester. After 1.4 km take the turning to Lt. Bentley on the left, after 200m take the turning on the right, there should be a sign on the verge to guide you. After 750m take the left turning at the triangle junction (another sign), 300m and the field entrance is signed to your right.
